

Guidelines for completing the coursework in BA in English Studies

(for students admitted in or after 2018)

August 29, 2022

Number of credits to be completed: 180

Ideal pace: 30 credits/semester [6x30 = 180 credits by the end of the 6th semester]

The components of the coursework:

- (general courses: 20 credits: 5x2 obligatory liberal arts subjects + 10 optional)
- shared English Studies courses (60 credits)
- track (50 credits)
- and a minor<sup>1</sup> or specialization<sup>2</sup> (50 credits)<sup>3</sup>

(1) Shared English Studies courses, for all BA in English Studies students

- Relevant curriculum: English Studies (BA) [shared]_N_2018 (see page 3)
- To be completed: a total of 80 credits
- In the first two semesters the 5 liberal arts subjects should be completed (5x2=10 credits)
- Obligatory lecture in the 1st semester: Introduction to Linguistics
- Obligatory seminar in the 1st semester: English Foundation 1
- In the first year a minimum of 6 obligatory English language courses (6x3 = 18 credits) should be completed, as this is a prerequisite to taking the comprehensive language exam called Academic English 1 exam (the range of options is as follows: Reading Skills, Writing Skills, Communication Skills, Academic Study Skills, Use of English 1, Use of English 2, and Listening Skills). Please sign up for language courses as soon as you can.
- Also in the first year it is worth completing many (or all) of the general (=non-English major) optional courses (codes include BAVÁL, XA and X in Neptun) (5x2=10 credits) so in the 2nd and 3rd years you can concentrate on your major.
- In the 2nd semester complete English Foundation 2 (its prerequisite is English Foundation 1; if EF1 is completed after the 1st semester, EF2 can be completed later).
- In the 2nd semester, the compulsory lecture is English Phonetics and Phonology.
- In the 2nd semester you should sign up for the Academic English 1 exam which is listed as a subject in Neptun but does not involve coursework, only the exam. (For the content and other details of the exam, see the “Academic English Regulations” on the IEAS website, <http://www.ieas-szeged.hu/documents/>.)

---

<sup>2</sup> A specialization may be a part of (i) your major (i.e. English Studies) or (ii) another BA program. For instance, (i) IEAS offers one specialization to students without a proficiency in Hungarian, “Business English”; the other specialization, “Fordítás és tolmácsolás alapjai” [=“Basics of Translation and Interpreting”] is available only to students with advanced proficiency in Hungarian; (ii) specializations which are part of other BA programs are “Hungarian Studies” or “Religious studies”, both of which are available in English.

<sup>3</sup> Minors and specializations have to be selected in the 2nd semester of your studies (that is, in the spring semester of your first year – this is publicized as the period of “SZAKOSODÁS” in the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences) in Neptun under Administration → Select specialization. They start in the 3rd semester of your studies.

- In the curriculums (below) “0th semester” is marked when a course can be taken at any time during your studies. Most such courses are 2nd and 3rd year courses that can be taken after you passed the Academic English 1 exam.
- In the shared component of the program such courses include, for instance, the Linguistics Survey Course lectures (3x4=12 credits), Academic Composition and Academic Writing (the former is a prerequisite to the latter, so you have to take Academic Composition first and Academic Writing second), Language Class Seminar (only Presentation Techniques is usually offered as a Language Class Seminar), the Descriptive Grammar and Syntax of English lecture, and the Integrated English Language Skills seminar.
- In the 5th and 6th semesters you should take Consultation for BA Thesis 1 (Fall) and 2 (Spring) consultations.

(2) Tracks: within English Studies, there are two tracks, “American Studies” and “English”. Students can choose American Studies at the very beginning of their 1st semester. If you do not specifically choose American Studies, you automatically join the English track. The choice of “American Studies” needs to be done in Neptun, under Administration → Select specialization.

- The curriculum for the English track: English Studies [English]_N_2018 (see page 6 below)
- Obligatory lectures in the 1st semester: Introduction to English Studies and Introduction to English Literature and Culture 1
- Obligatory seminar in the 2nd semester: Introduction to English Literature and Culture 2 (its weak prerequisite is Introduction to English Literature and Culture 1)<sup>4</sup>
- A strong prerequisite to taking 2nd and 3rd year courses is the Academic English 1 exam. But: please also see footnotes 8, 11, and 13 below.

- The curriculum for the American Studies track: English Studies [American Studies]_N_2018 (see page 5 below)
- Compulsory lecture course in the 1st semester: Introduction to American Studies
- Compulsory seminar in the 2nd semester: Introduction to American Literature and Culture (its weak prerequisite is Introduction to American Studies)
- A strong prerequisite to taking 2nd and 3rd year courses is the Academic English 1 exam. But: please also see footnotes 8, 11, and 13 below.

* * *

The curriculums below do not mention the BA thesis (or BAT) (due to the fact that completing your thesis does not earn you credits), however, completing and defending a BA thesis is a requirement of graduation. For information on the thesis, see “BA thesis regulations”, on the Institute website (http://www.ieas-szeged.hu/documents/.)

When signing up for courses, please always pay special attention to selecting the correct code for each course, since there is no possibility to change codes for completed courses later.

<sup>4</sup> In those cases when a student signed up for a lecture course but was unable to complete it (i.e. they did not manage to get a passing grade in the exam), they can retake the course “for the exam only” (“csak vizsgára”, in Hungarian): this means that they sign up for it in Neptun, can consult with the instructor, and take the exam, but no lectures are held throughout the semester.

<sup>6</sup> Names of instructors indicated in the curricula are of the instructors who are administratively responsible for the courses but do not necessarily teach them.

<sup>8</sup> << indicates a “strong prerequisite”, i.e. a course that has to be completed earlier (in an earlier semester). For instance, a prerequisite for English Foundation 2 is English Foundation 1 (coded ANAMBA 18-31), to be completed before English Foundation 2.

<sup>9</sup> TCS: “subject group” (“tantárgycsoport” in Hungarian). For instance, to satisfy the “Language Class” subject group requirement, courses under this category have to be taken (rather than a course called “Language Class”, which does not exist). For a listing of courses under various subject groups, see page 7–9.

<sup>11</sup> @@ indicates a “weak prerequisite”, i.e. if a course has a prerequisite that can be completed concurrently (in the same semester). (For instance, if a student does not pass the Academic English 1 exam in the 2nd semester, they can sign up for the Academic English 1 exam in the 3rd semester and also sign up for 2nd and 3rd year lecture courses in the same semester.) In the case of weak prerequisites, the student needs to sign up for the prerequisite before they attempt to sign up for courses, otherwise Neptun will not allow the latter.

<sup>12</sup> The “Any course” requirements can be satisfied by any of the courses that are assigned this code (within the definitions of the course, e.g. the “Any course lecture” requirement can be satisfied with a lecture course), but these requirements should be completed last in the course of a student’s studies, for instance, with thesis related courses.
